Foreword

In the future the Penn Alma of 1938 will unfold for us the memories of many incidents which made our years in Mt. Penn High School some of the happiest we shall ever know. May this yearbook preserve for all many, many pleasant associations.

Dedication

We, the Class of 1938, dedicate this, our yearbook, to Jacob D. Wentzel in grateful appreciation of his untiring help in producing our school publications.

"Time marches on! And with it the Class of 1938. Another milestone has been reached! Your tomorrow will demand service, service of you. No one can tell what will be the demand, but he who would strive for the loftiest aim of human endeavor must serve.

My congratulations to you; and may the coming years find every member of the Class of '38 playing his part nobly in life's great drama."

Senior CLASS

Au Revoir

It was grand while it lasted:
The joys, the sorrows, the triumphs we knew,
The frowning, the downing, the clowning, the spurning, the yearning;
Oh please, just for a short, prolonged view!

Yes, it was no subdued Utopia:
The kicking, the picking, the sarcasm, the criticism;
But still in earnest we have developed nostalgia;
And onward we trudge with a burdensome "longingism."

No, we must not complain!
To your teachings we must adhere;
To make for each one, himself, a luminous name,
One that'll conquer our persistent foe, fear!

So we leave you: in body, not in soul,
Remembering the Golden Rule for a clear mind;
You have sent us, of '38, out into the world's folds;
If only she will be as you have been, kind.

To take all and give none would be a bad policy;
So to be honest, sensible, and benevolent, we do vow;
To say and do all that will not lead to fallacy.
We're leaving you with fond hopes and real dreams now!

—Olive McAdam.

Class History

We, the Class of 1938, are not true historians, but we offer you this, our humble history, with the hope that you may learn of the joys and sorrows that we have experienced.

Let us take you back to the good old days of '34-'35, when eighty-one little angels entered the ninth grade. The class was divided into three homerooms, namely: Miss Gring's, Miss Trostel's, and Miss Snavely's. The boys were still wearing knickers, and the girls had not yet heard the word sophistication. We are proud to say that three of our boys shone in sports that year.

At Christmas time the three homerooms held parties, exchanging presents and the like. In March we all enjoyed a doggie roast at Klapperthal. The end of the freshman year found '38 to be a flourishing class, richer than any other, and as dignified as upperclassmen.

After three months' vacation a class of ninety-one pupils reorganized in three homerooms under the eyes of male teachers, (we wonder why?), namely: Mr. Wentzel, Mr. Toole, and Mr. Sterner.

The sophomore year saw many young romances blossoming. The boys became bolder in asking the small things "to be mine." The Soph Hop held in the library gave all of them the chance of showing the prize that they had captured, waltzing to the melodious strains of the "Blue Moon" Orchestra. An event that the biology class enjoyed was a hike to the Suburban Water Works. After an investigation of what makes it "tick", they were given a surprise of refreshments.

With the advent of summer, the strain was again relieved, and the members of '38 enjoyed three months of freedom.

When September rolled around, we again sensed the essence of school life. As time went on, we were considered intolerable in the eyes of the other classes, but we thought we had attained sublime heighths in M. P. H. S. As powerful juniors, we were under the supervision of four teachers, (it's getting worse!), Mr. Wentzel, Miss Kremer, Mr. Taylor and Mr. Stump. In all, we were a body of seventy-one. The junior organization was led by Ed Kemmerer with Clem Boland as vice president, Mildred Kline as secretary and Daniel Spatz as treasurer. The main activity that year came on the last day of school, when the class held a swimming party at Green Hills Lake.

After a brief vacation, we embarked on a year full of fun. Dignified seniors would not quite describe the Class of '38. If there were any diabolic tricks and dry jokes to be sprung, ours was the class to do them. How well we remember the music box bursting forth with "Mary Had a Little Lamb", and the day when "Skeeter" Mason came to school with his first pair of long pants! Forget? Never!

Our class was divided into three homerooms: Mr. Sharetts's, Mr. Wentzel's and Mr. Stump's. William O'Connell was elected president; Grace Hill, vice president; Mildred Kline, secretary; and Sydne Fischer, treasurer.

In our senior year we were very fortunate to have Mr. Ward as our new supervising principal. He helped us willingly with the many problems that confront a senior class.

The soccer team was well represented by seniors, nine out of the eleven, when they copped the title for the championship in the Central Division. The members were all rewarded with a banquet and a dance. On December 22 the seniors gave a dance in the gym. Another event that was enjoyed by all was a doggie roast at Egleman's Park. On February 25 the debating team, composed of seniors, won both the debates under the guidance of Miss Ludwig. With thanks to Miss Trostel, the senior play, "This Genius

Business", became a success, and talent scouts were thrusting contracts and pens into the hands of the cast at the drop of the curtain.

This year the Hi-Y and Girl Reserves Clubs were organized. Their main activity of the year was a joint affair, the "Spring Swing" Dance held at the Y. W. C. A. on May 14. During the monthly class meetings we decided on the class colors, seal brown and gold; the class flower, white gardenia; and the class motto, "Where there is no path, make one."

It would be an unpardonable sin to exclude the senior prom and banquet from the mass of activities. On the afternoon of May 24 we left the stately portals of M. P. H. S. for the last time and hurried home to prepare ourselves for the big affair. The dinner dance was held at the Reading Country Club and proved to be an unforgettable climax to a year of social events.

On Sunday, May 29, we solemnly mounted the steps of the church for the baccalaureate services.

Commencement was observed on June 1. Although it was the ending of the class as a whole, it was the beginning of a new life for the individual.

Mischievous tricks were forgotten as a serious body of seventy-five students, the largest graduating class in the history of the school, walked up the aisle to end their spectacular high school career.

New features this year were the transfer of a mantle to the president of the junior class, and the induction of those who were elected into the National Honor Society. Both of these exercises were very impressive.

Another feature was a dramatization of an imaginary future given by the seniors entitled, "Makers of Destiny." The most important part of the program was the presentation of the diplomas made by Mr. Howard.

As the sun rose on the 2nd day of June, the Class of '38 awoke in a different world with only the fond memories of Mount Penn High School.

—Eleanor Steffy.

Class Will

We, the Class of 1938, being of sound mind and body on this first day of June, do hereby make our last will and testament.

To the school we bequeath a whole shipment of no-smoking signs.

To Mr. Ward a quiet, more dignified student body.

To Mr. Wentzel a class that will appreciate the merits of Hamlet.

To Miss Ludwig an office that is her very own!

We give to Mr. Larson a class that will know the meaning of the term "Civil Service Examination."

For the peace of the school, we humbly bequeath Miss Kremer a batch of noiseless typewriters.

To Mr. Sharetts we give the right to use the expression "friend."

We also give Miss Ramsay a brand new band.

To Mr. Toole we bequeath a new red sweater to wear under his coat.

To Mr. Hasley we leave another championship soccer team.

To Mr. Stutzman we give piles upon piles of European travel pamphlets.

To Mr. Taylor we give a year's subscription to the Philadelphia Inquirer.

To Mr. Sterner we leave a traffic whistle to use in directing the kiddies walking down the hall.

To Mr. Stump we bequeath our excellent knowledge of logarithms to pass on to his next bunch of cherubs.

To Miss Trostle we leave another class play to direct. "Lawd, please have mercy on her soul."

To Miss Babb a new class of seventh graders to train to be perfect ladies and gentlemen.

To Miss Bier a less secluded homeroom. We of the upper grades see very little of her these days.

To Mr. Evancho a study hall that wants to remain in study.

We give to Miss Griesemer a new set of basketball rules.

To Mr. Seifarth we bequeath a shop class of underclassmen who don't want to use the machinery.

We also give Mr. George a more athletically-inclined student body.

To Mr. Murr and Mr. Neff we leave a large building to take excellent care of. We know then that it is in good hands.

To Miss Reifsnyder we leave a pair of roller skates to use in delivering the morning bulletin.

To Miss Heidenrich we give a class of boys taking home economics.

We give to Emily Malsnee Jeanne Aicher's pep, vim, and vigor.

We leave Ed. Armstrong's height to all the short people in the junior class.

To Harold Wanamaker we bequeath Gene Batastini's sparkling white teeth. Now watch the girls!

We leave Clem Boland's track and basketball ability to Bruce Fabian. It's very good for the waistline.

To Nellie Dease we leave Helen Eddy's lipstick.

To our future star basketball players we leave Joe Miller's good sportsmanship.

To Louise Zipf we leave Harold Rohrbach.

We bequeath William O'Connell's practicalness to Ray Teichman.

We leave Bill Friedman's wit to anybody who has enough nerve to use it.

We bequeath the red locks of Pete Martin to all the girls of the lower grades. Listen to the sighs!

We leave Arlington Fabian's tremendous strength to Edgar Huggins.

To Russ Roth we give Bill Hostetter's large map so that he will take care of the future current events.

We bequeath Jim Holzman's stuffed owls, etc., to the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

We leave the excellent typing of Evelyn Horning to Jane Miller.

We bequeath Daniel Spatz's car to the Reiffton Kiddies so that they won't have to walk all that distance.

To Al Woerle we leave Leonard Mosser's bicycle so that he can ride to school.

We leave Dick Sailer's shoes to the junior high school as the kiddies will love to take boating trips.

Barbara Reed's henna rinse is left to Peggy Everhart.

We leave Len Eisenberg's ability to find an argument in the most peaceful of situations to James Steinman.

To Ken Robinson we give Bob Eckenroth's angelic attitude with the hope that he will stay out of trouble.

We bequeath Jerome Denner's scholastic standing to Garvin Dechant

We leave Eleanor Steffy's pleasing personality as an inspiration to the girls of the junior class.

We give Paul Walker's haircut to the Berks County Prison.

To Liz Sands we bequeath Leona Kercher's marvelous dancing ability.

We leave Bob Murray's laugh to Paul Eberle.

We give to Emma Lou Armstrong Louise Mercer's willingness to sing in assembly.

To Jean Dengler we leave Ed. Kemmerer's bass violin case to use as a bathing suit.

We bequeath Grace Hill's charm to Ilse Proger.

To next year's center on the girls' basketball team we leave Millie Kline's long legs.

We leave William Mason's humor to Bob Richter.

To the Lux Toilet Soap advertisements we leave Sydne Fischer's complexion.

And to Herman Berstler we leave Bob Gable's charming blush.

We bequeath the dependability of Grace Bieber to Bert Ruttenberg.

To all Stony Creek girls we leave a little bit of Dot Fahnauer's independence.

We give our favorite story "Ferdinand" to the next senior shorthand class.

To Pete Reed we give the good behavior of Mike Shields. Let him please try to make some use of it.

We leave the loquacity of Marnie McDonough to next year's debating team.

We give all Mary Foley's experience as manager to Jane Moyer.

To Tommy Deibert we leave the industry and studiousness of Olive McAdam.

We give to Amos Fick the athletic figure of Tubby Tyson.

We leave Stan Alenier's headache to '39's will writer. Wow!

To Bowman Eddy we leave the manly walk of George Schuler.

To all would-be blonds we give the golden locks of Margaret Schrack.

We give John Bingaman's posture in English class to "Ducky" Leinbach.

To James Boas we give the goodnaturedness of Kermit Flicker.

To Charles Grubb we give Al Brintzenhoff s newspaper route.

We leave Don Calm's tennis courts to Ralph Yerger.

To Vince Aulenbach we leave the gymnastic ability of Clair Bortz.

We bequeath Dick Hardman's willingness to work to Helen Mull.

To Helen Weisman we leave Betty Rae Folk's beautiful hands and finger nails.

We leave Elva Goodhart's "sooner should I" to those who do not tire of that expression.

Ruth Glassmoyer's classical pieces are left to Frank Hayes; maybe he will tone down a bit.

To Richard Houck we leave Clarence Hess's shyness toward girls.

We bequeath Miriam Hoch's ability to stay home nights to Eleanor Walkner.

To Eugene O'Brien we leave Heber LeVan's coat of tan.

To those who need it, we leave snow white paper.

We bequeath William Kase's ability to stay in school on warm days to his baby brother, Jim.

To next year's basketball captain we leave Mick Sands's agility and mesmeristic ability on the basketball floor.

We bequeath William Shiffer's trumpet to the band.

To Agnes Allen we leave Dottie Shiner's faithfulness.

To June Dengler we bequeath Marye Sfingas's petiteness.

We bequeath Elizabeth Shields's Saturday night dates at Sunnybrook to Mary Jane Koch.

We leave Eleanor Joyce's flashing blue eyes to Jean Hendrickson.

The versatility of Margaret Pflugfelder is left to Emily Wenrich.

We bequeath Marvin Weidner's gumption to Fred Howard.

We leave "Jinny" Heffner's boy friends to the Girl Reserves.

To the Hi-Y Club we leave the remnants of Joe Kershner's package of bon bons.

Ruth Walker's coiffure is left to Dot Steigerwalt.

We give to Herman Renner Melvin Scarlett's shyness.

To Haldane Seyler we leave Harold Wolfe's unanswerable questions.

We give Leo Way's manly shoulders to Paul Calm.

The eternal silent devotion which "Piggy" Miller has for Mick Sands we leave to Tom McDonough and Dot Silhart.

We bequeath the art of Florence Martz to Elaine Gilbert.

The quietness of both Lillian Nagle and Lawrence Klee is left to next year's problems class.

We leave to Shirley Ludwig the ability of Alfred Feather to avoid a certain somebody's glances.

And last but not least to the school we leave a bouquet of lilies in memory of a progressive and loyal class, the Class of '38.

In witness thereof we hereby appoint as executor of this last will and testament Mr. Jacob D. Wentzel, knowing that he will carry out the said provisions of this document. Having concluded our last material business as a class, we hereunto set our sign this first day of June, 1938.

Witnessed by— CLASS OF 1938.

Stanley J. Alenier.

Class Prophecy

We hate to start out this way, but Joe Kershner is collecting corpses for his thriving undertaker's establishment.

Tubby Tyson is joy riding with that black roadster. Watch out girls!

Billy Friedman is wearing out soap boxes at the rate of 10 a day at 5th & Penn.

Fabian, Hess, Bingaman and Mosser are thru with women. They've joined the Foreign Legion.

Eisenberg's in Washington advising the president.

Butch Schuler is swinging a meat chopper.

Dick Hardman has come back to demonstrate his new northern accent to Miss Ludwig.

We just got a list of the new Reading Hospital Staff and look who's on it: Margaret Schrack, Miriam Hoch, Louise Mercer, Ruth Walker and Olive McAdam.

Donald Calm is still looking for the Blue Moon.

Elva Goodhart has given up her "viccy". She now has an orthophonic.

Barbara Reed is engineering the model home.

Juggie Joyce has found true love at last. She's down in the South Sea Islands.

Dr. Clem Boland is catering to his feminine patients.

Hero Kase is now making "Chevvy" airplanes.

Helen Eddy has just purchased Ed Armstrong's book, "How to Grow Tall Overnite," for her library.

Marye Sfingas is now attracting patients to Doc Sawbones's office.

Bob Eckenroth is carrying on his own problems class. True, is it not? And by the way, Ibby Shields is drilling math into the heads of the new kiddies from Mason's.

Paderewski is trying his best to keep up to Ruth Glassmoyer.

Betty Folk is pounding a typewriter at DeWittle and Snodgrass, Inc.

Flash! Eleanor Steffy! Now touring the continent teaching young hopefuls how to boil water.

Skeeter Mason advocates the new calendar which has two Palm Sundays a month.

Jerome Denner won last year's Pulitzer Prize.

Gene Batistini is still running errands for Miss Ludwig.

Stan Alenier is now editing "Esquire", and you ought to see some of his latest creations. Wow!

The inevitable has happened. Mike and Marney are happily married.

Bill Hostetter's new airplane route runs from Stony Creek to Jacksonwald.

Bortz is the proud inventor of a new mustache grower.

Jazz Murray is the famous originator of Jazzcopation.

Dick Sailer is boss at the Birdsboro Steel Mill.

Jeanne Aicher is hurrying back from Paris to attend the new fall fashion opening.

Grace Bieber and Margaret Pflugfelder are efficiently managing the office of the Reading Railway Co.

As Speaker of the House, William O'Connell is still letting them re-vote because they didn't understand the bill.

Albert Brintzenhoff is holding up the job of Circulation Manager of the Reading Eagle.

Now Brownie finally has his own baseball team to coach.

Class Prophecy---Continued

Tune your radio in on the Witches' Hour at 12:00 o'clock. That shriek!! Dottie Fahnauer.

Harold Rohrbach still knows Louise Zipf as his inspiration.

Mr. Tayor is pleased with the results of his "Vice-President" Office Practice Club. Kermit Flicker, Lawrence Klee, and Leo Way are first, second and third vice-president respectively, of the U-TWIST-EM Pretzel Factory.

"Ladies, these curlers did it all," says Sydne Fisher modeling the latest hair styles in the Five and Ten.

Mildred Kline is now playing the piano for the setting up exercises over WOW at 7:00 A. M.

Alfred Feather is modeling for Dopey in Coal Black and the Seven Clinkers. (Our apologies to Fred Allen.)

Joe Miller has installed his own bus service between Mt. Penn and Shillington.

Virginia Heffner is intently reading Ed. Armstrong's latest book, previously mentioned.

Pete Martin is still seriously considering taking up the 'cello.

Dorothy Shiner finally tied the knot with the owner of that gray Ford.

Paul Walker now takes the wrecker along when he goes to Hamburg.

Heber Levan, during his P. G. course, finally convinced Mr. Taylor to give him a C.

Holzman, just back from Africa, is stuffing lions at the Smithsonian Institute.

Leona Kercher, America's foremost dancer, is showing Europe what she has already shown America.

Florence Martz is seen at Mason's mailing a large package containing her belated Business English outlines.

Bob Gable's eyes are now as famous as Clark Gable's ears.

The Olympic team just left America. Included was Grace Hill, America's hope for the Decathlon Championship.

Ed Kemmerer is profiting by selling his "Stay-Awake" pills to all orchestra members.

Flash! The biggest bets for the Indianapolis Speedway are Shields and Shiffer.

Mary Foley is managing Mt. Penn's State Championship Basketball Team.

Evelyn Horning is slowly wearing out the floor of Carsonia's Skating Rink.

Lillian Nagle has astounded the world by making a world-famous speech.

Surprise!! Piggy Miller and Marvin Weidner are working for a New York Escort Bureau.

Mick Sands is now playing on the Sands' Alumni Team.

Melvin Scarlett is hauling water for Brownie's baseball team.

Harold Wolfe is busy swabbing decks.

In Retrospect

An Appreciation of the Activities of the P. T. A.

The Mt. Penn Parent-Teacher Association was organized with the following objectives in mind:

1. To promote child welfare in home, school, church and community.
2. To bring into closer relation the home and the school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child.
3. To develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, moral, and spiritual education.

The association has always cooperated with the administrative head of the school in providing medical aid and assistance for pupils who were in need of such service. On numerous occasions the association has made life more cheerful for a few of our pupils who are less fortunate than ourselves in many ways.

The welfare work of the community has constantly been in the minds of the association, particularly at the Christmas Season. It is at this time that the Christmas baskets are delivered to the needy. Our school and community are fortunate in having an association that has the interest and welfare of the pupils foremost in its purposes.

It behooves us, as pupils, to express our sincere thanks to the officers of the association, who are as follows: Mrs. John Walker, president; Mr. Charles George, vice president; Mrs. Joseph J. Larson, secretary, Mr. Lloyd Sharetts, treasurer.

Seniors' Alphabet

A is for Armstrong who is very tall.
B is for Brown who's a whiz at baseball.
C is for Clem who thinks girls are a laugh.
D is for Denner of Penn Alma Staff.
E is for Eleanor who has a "bum" knee.
F is for Friedman whose jokes are off key.
G is for Grace who's just like her name.
H is for Hardman who leads a band.
I is for Icher (which isn't spelled right).
J is for Joyce of the senior play fight.
K is for Kline of the basketball team.
L is for Leona whose smile doth beam.

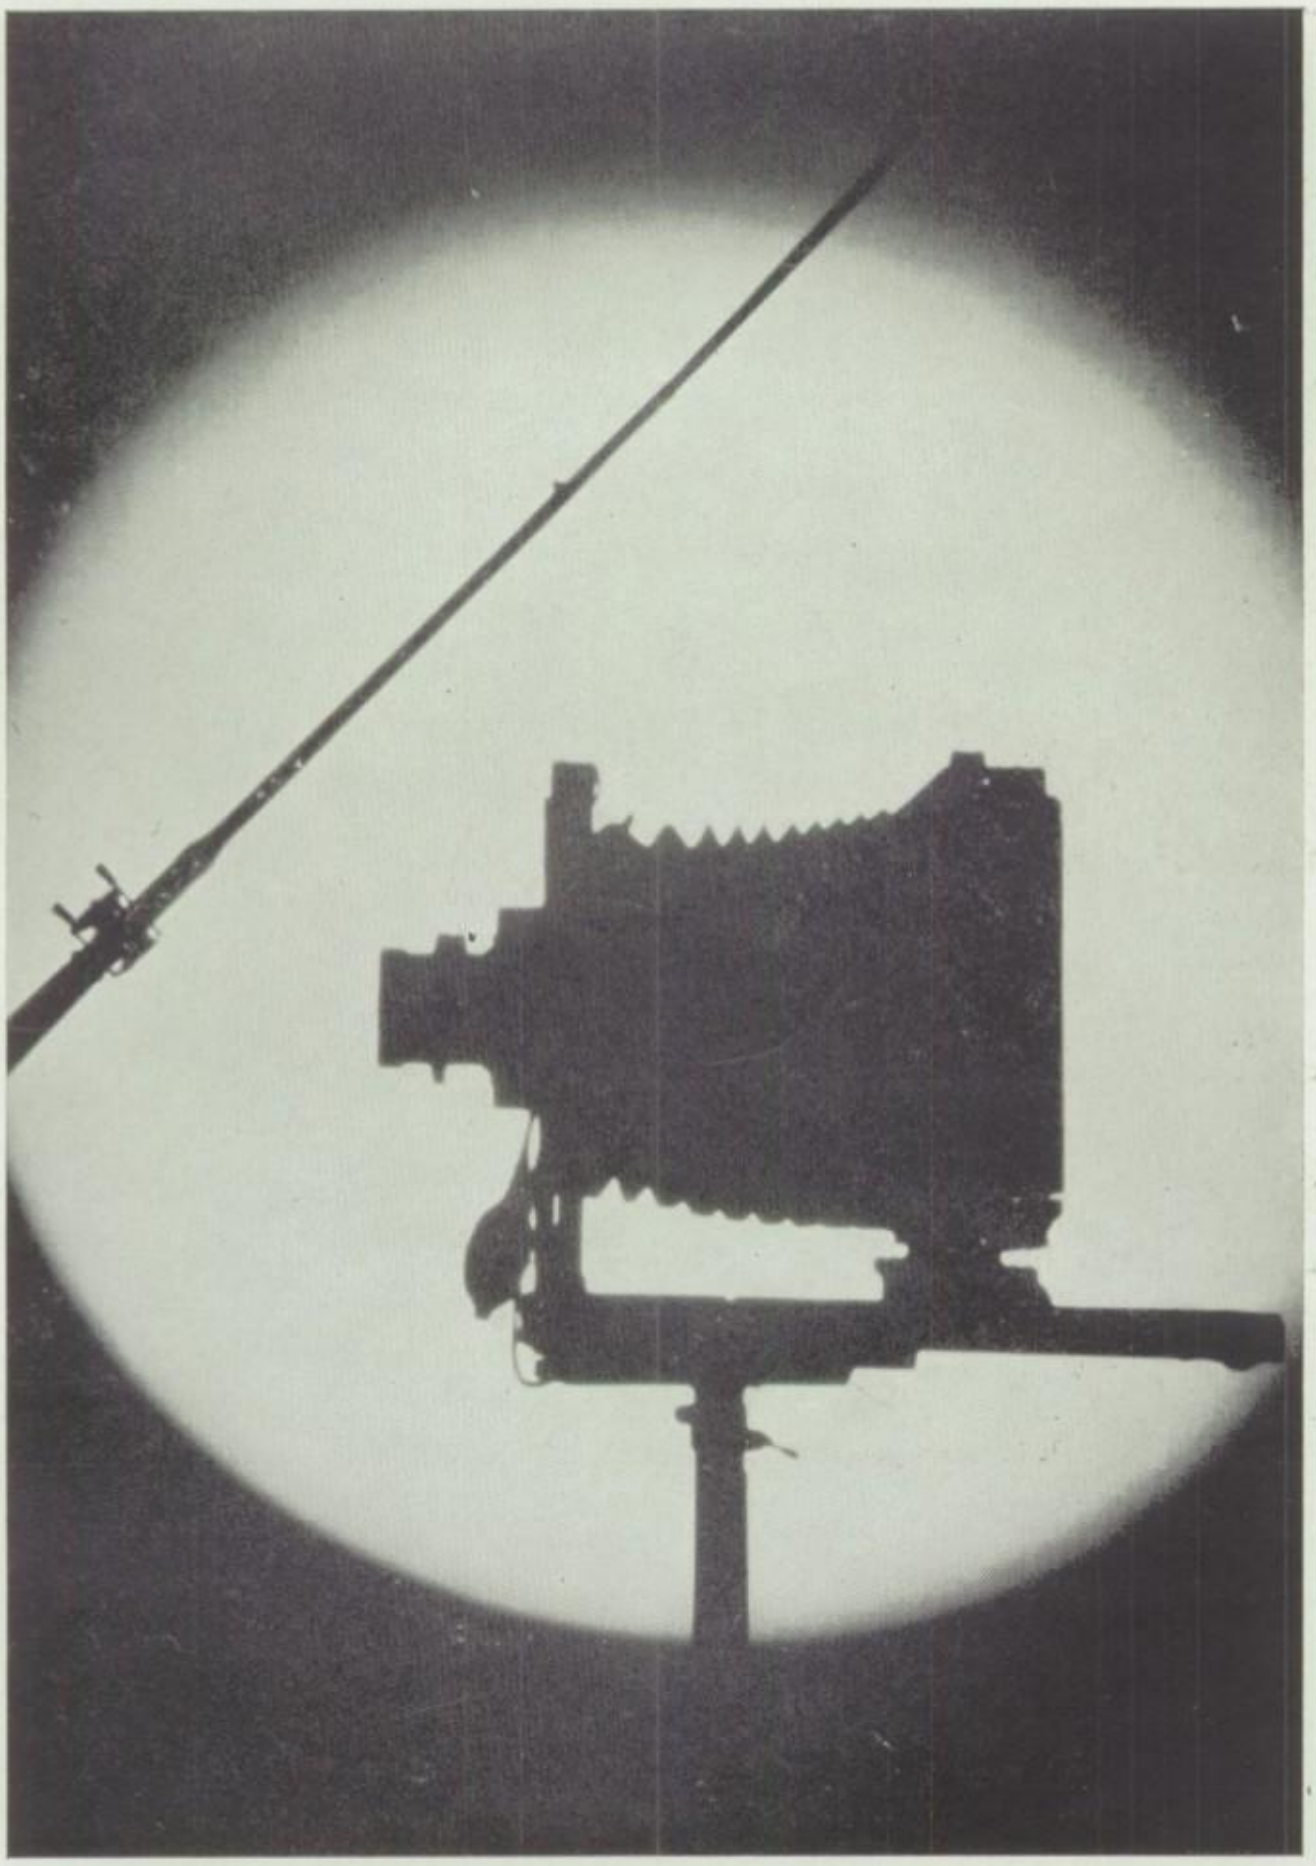
Mt. Penn Alma Mater

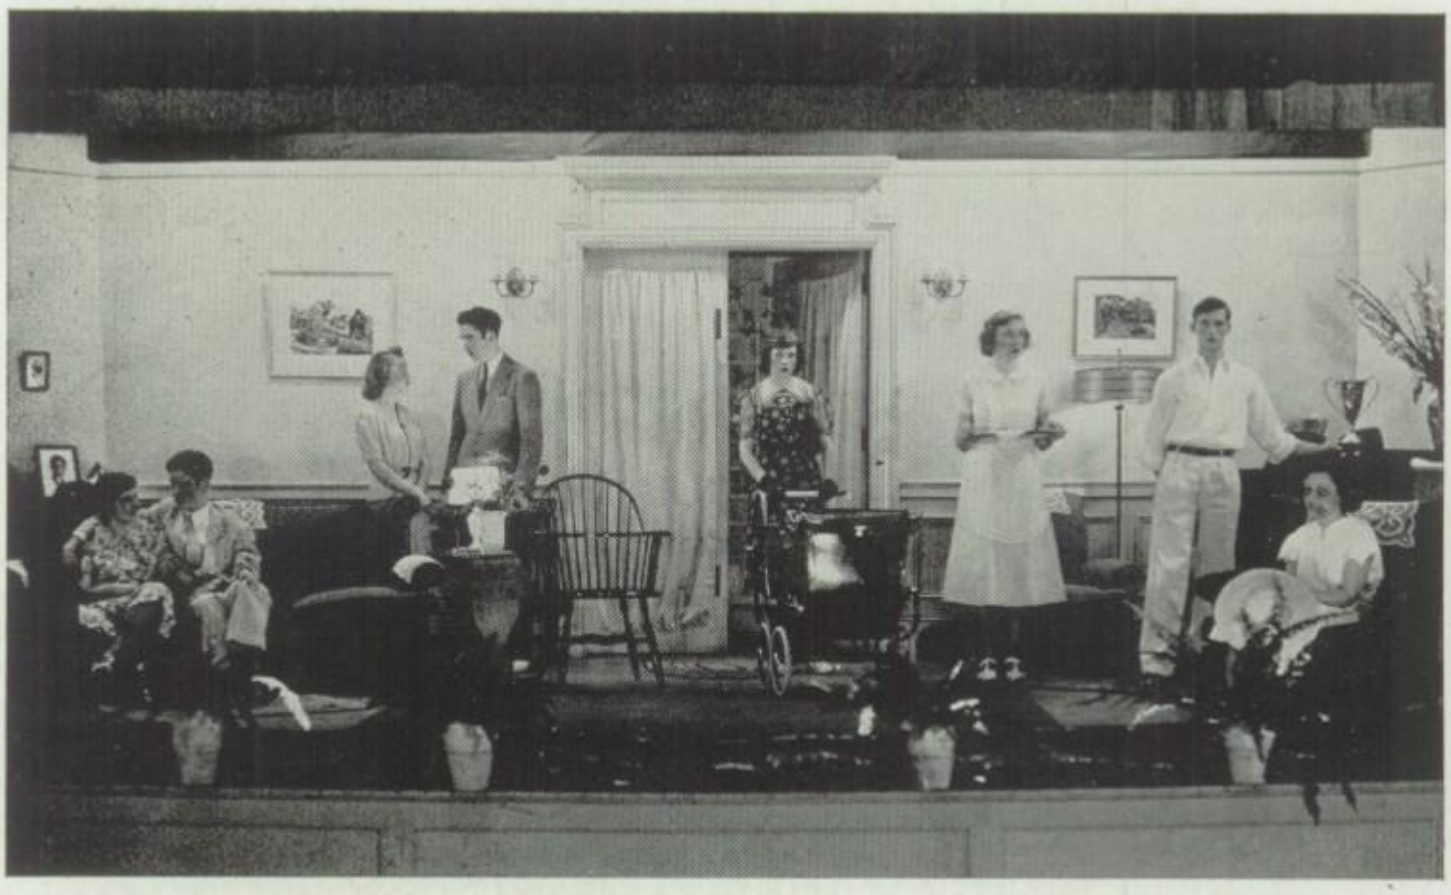
(Tune: "Far Above Cayuga's Waters")

Proudly waves old Mount Penn's emblem:
Black and Orange Fair!
Floats triumphant in the breezes,
No dishonor there.
Student days have fondest mem'ries:
Comrades here we stand
As our troth to Alma Mater
Pledge we hand in hand.

From thy halls, dear Alma Mater,
We, at length, must part,
But thy mem'ry shall not perish
From a student's heart.
Far away on life's broad highway
All shall fortune try;
Still our loving hearts shall cherish
Thoughts of Mount Penn High!



Activities



Senior Play

Left to right: Eleanor Joyce, William O'Connell, Jeanne Aicher, Clement Boland, Elizabeth Shields, Barbara Reed, Warren Martin, Sydne Fischer.

Bud O'Connell and Eleanore Joyce were superb in the roles of Mr. and Mrs. George Blodgett, and Jean Aicher was unsurpassable as Aeida. The role of Beaumont, a genius at the 'cello, was carried out perfectly by Pete Martin. Clem Boland was "reel" romantic in his excellent portrayal of Dr. John Oliver, and Sidney Fisher, Elizabeth Shields and Barbara Reed were at their best in their respective parts.

The play was lauded by everyone as "one of the best." Miss Trostel, as director, and those assisting in ushering, stage setting, and business managing, deserve much credit. We hope Mt. Penn High can present many more plays as good as "This Genius Business."

Junior Play

Standing: Janet Leinbach, Vincent Aulenbach, William Shellenberger, Russell Roth, Dorothy Moorshead, Roswell Hill (absent from picture).

On Friday, May 6, the junior class presented a rollicking college comedy entitled "Campus Quarantine". The scene was laid in a sorority house on the campus of a Beverly, California, College. The plot centered about the confinement of the two waiters in the house after one of the girls contracted chicken pox.

Miss Elva Ludwig was the coach of the play.

National Honor Society

Second row: Margaret McDonough, Barbara Reed, Betty Brown, Sarah Bressler, Margaret Pflugfelder.

Third row: Bud O'Connell, Jerome Denner, Ed Kemmerer, Clem Boland, Raymond Teichman, Russell Roth.

On April 28, 1931, the first chapter of the Mt. Penn National Honor Society was formed, and every year since that time new members have been installed.

The purpose of this organization is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to develop character in the students of American secondary schools.

The election of members is made by the faculty. Not more than fifteen per cent of the seniors may be elected to membership, and not more than five per cent of the junior class. Grace Hill, Eleanor Steffy, Edward Kemmerer, and William O'Connell were elected last year. Miss Ludwig is the faculty advisor.

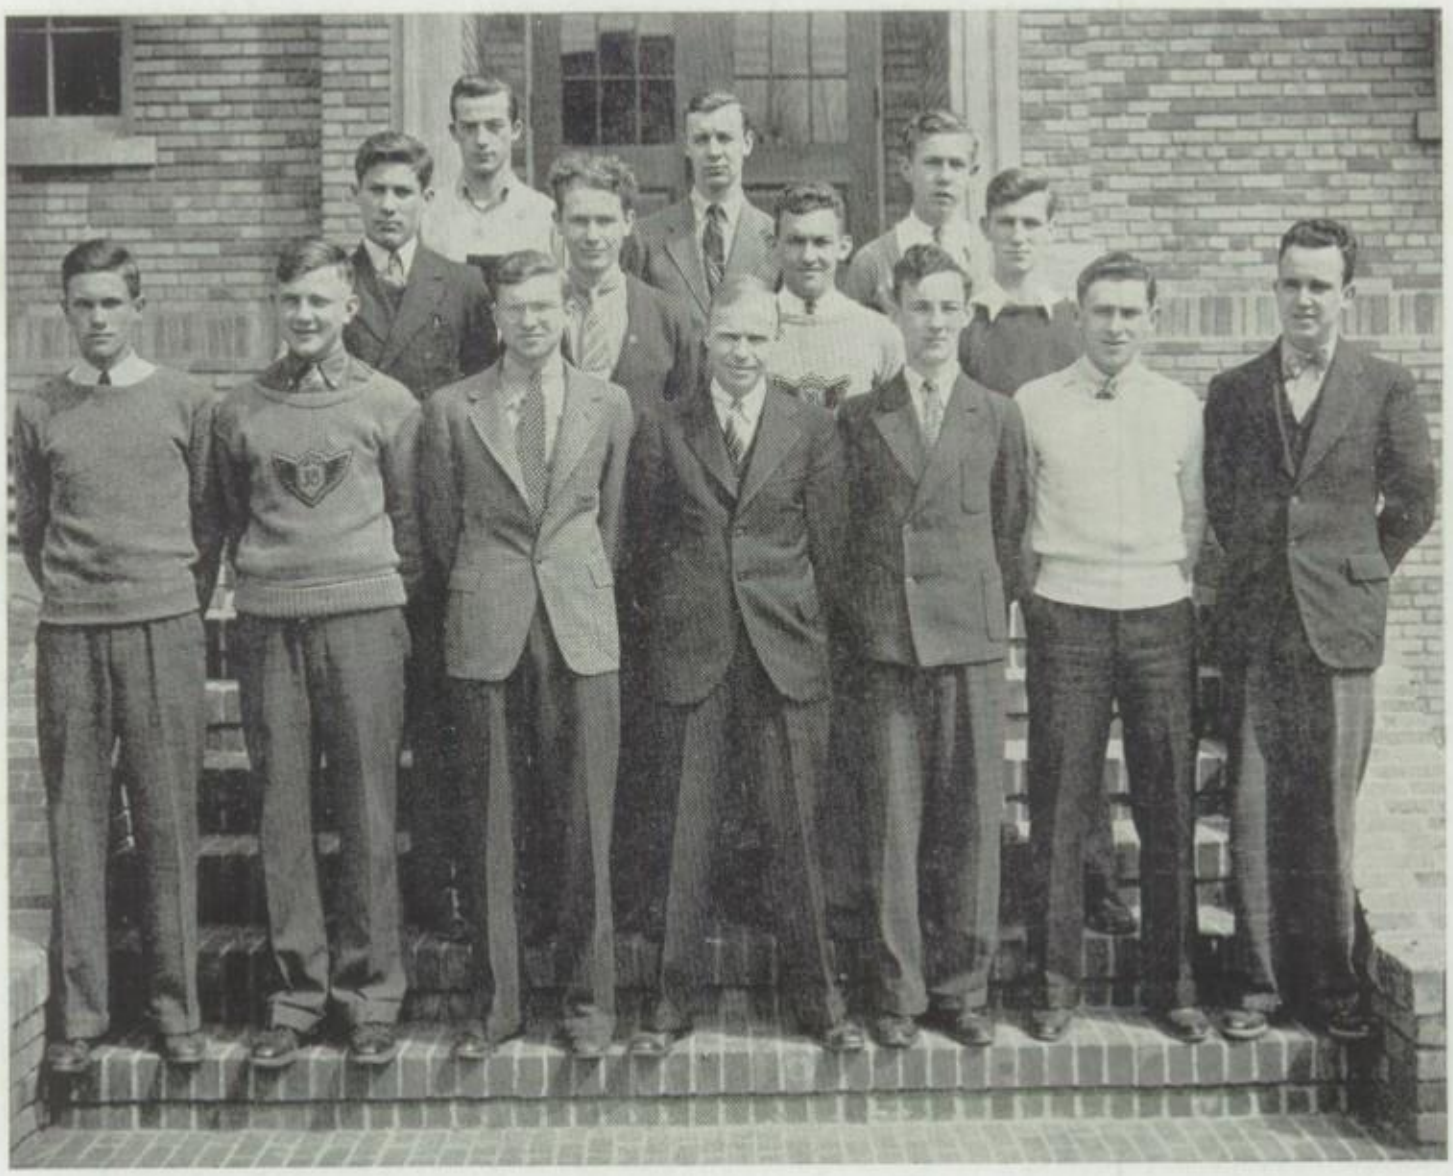
Debating Teams

Seated: left to right: Eleanor Joyce, Elizabeth Shields, Miss Ludwig, coach; Elva Goodhart, Margaret McDonough.

Standing: Richard Hardman, Warren Kershner, William O'Connell, William Hostetter.

On Friday, February 25, Mt. Penn's negative team defeated the affirmative team from Fleetwood on the question: "Resolved, that the several states should adopt a unicameral system of legislation." Professor Galligan of Lehigh University acted as judge.

Mt. Penn's affirmative team won a decision over the Oley negative team on the same question. Professor Derrell Larson, of Franklin and Marshall College, judged the debate. Miss Elva Ludwig coached both teams.



Hi-Y

Second row: Richard Sailer, Norman Whitt, Arlington Fabian, Pete Martin.

Third row: Clair Bortz, Warren Kershner, and James Steinman.

The members consist of boys from the junior and senior classes only. The introduction of new members takes place in the fall and the last week of school. The advisory board is composed of Mr. Lloyd Sharetts and Mr. J. Bricker of the Y.M.C.A.

The platform follows: clean speech, clean living, clean sports, and clean scholarship. The motto is: "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character".

Girl Reserves

First row, left to right: Lucille Kline, Doris Minnichbach, Elaine Gilbert, Jeanne Aicher, Helen Eddy, Miss Kramer, Eleanor Steffy, Anna Sfingas, Ilse Proger, Jane Miller, Grace Bieber.

Second row: Jean Riffert, Mary Jane Koch, Eleanor Joyce, Elva Goodhart, Margaret McDonough, Elizabeth Shields, Mary Sfingas, Anna Mae Bechtel, Mildred Kline, Arlene Quinter.

Third row: Ardele Sell, Marie Quinter, Dorothy Moorshead, Louise Mercer, Jean Hendrickson, Eleanor Walkner, Ina Zieber, Janet Leinbach, Peggy Everhart.

The Girl Reserves Club was organized the second semester of this year for the senior high girls. The meetings, following a year's project, "Introducing Me to Myself", dealt with such topics as: "Fashion Trends", "Care of One's Personal Appearance". Speakers from prominent Reading shops handled these subjects capably.

The social events for the second semester consisted of a supper hike to Egleman's, and the "Spring Swing" dance held at the Y. W. C. A. jointly by members of the G. R. and Hi-Y Clubs.

The officers who presided were: Dorothy Moorshead, president; Agnes Allen, vice president; Jean Hendrickson, secretary; Peggy Everhart, treasurer; Eleanor Steffy, program chairman. Miss Kremer was the faculty advisor.

Band and Cheerleaders

First row, left to right: Sydney Fisher, Jeanne Aicher, Eleanor Steffy, Anna Lease.

Second row: Joe Hendrickson, Douglass Reed, Richard Arnold, Miss Catherine Ramsay, director; William Clouser, James Lots, Mary Cramp.

Third row: Nancy Austin, Lincoln Ramsay, Richard Geiger, Josephine Lutz, Elise Louise Shalk, Richard Christman, Wendell Ward.

Fourth row: Robert Miller, John Cramp, Fred Howard, Harold Rohrbach, William Shiffer, Richard Schlegel.

Fifth row: Alvin Woerle, Elmer Frankhouser, Ronald Stock, Russell Roth, Philip De Turk.

Sixth row: Herman Bursler, Eugene O'Brien, Roswell Hill, Edwin Reed, Paul Leinbach.

Orchestra

Second row: Richard Geiger, Mary Cramp, Nancy Austin, Viola Boydjieff, Virginia Boydjieff, Ralph Yerger, William Clouser, Elsie Louise Schalk.

Third row: Robert Reeser, Josephine Lutz, Ruth Glassmoyer, Richard Christman, Lincoln Ramsay, Wendall Ward, Fred Howard.

Fourth row: John Cramp, Elmer Frankhouser, Paul Leinbach, Raymond Stock, Russell Roth, Harold Rohrbach.

Penn Post Staff

First row: Elva Goodhart, Eleanor Steffy, Eleanor Joyce, Dorothy Fahnauer, Marye Sfingas, Jeanne Aicher, Sydne Fischer.

Second row: Olive McAdam, Helen Eddy, Louise Mercer, Mildred Kline, Barbara Reed, Elizabeth Shields, Margaret McDonough, Margaret Pflugfelder, Grace Hill.

Third row: Stanley Alenier, Eugene Batastini, Jerome Denner, Russel Roth, Raymond Teichman, Donald Calm, Robert Murray, William Mason.

Hunting and Fishing Club

First row, left to right: Jacob Meyers, Paul Himmelberger, Charles Nein, Mr. John Seifarth, sponsor; Harold Wolfe, Alton Bingaman, John Nagle.

Second row: Daniel Van Pelt, Leonard Mosser, Paul Lorah, Garvin Dechant, Kenneth Sell, Robert Sweitzer.

Third row: Alfred Feather, LeRoy Gerth, Lee Willman, William Ritter, Haldane Seyler.

Fourth row: Thomas Deibert, Paul Walker, Harold Wanamaker.

The purpose of the Hunting and Fishing Club is to maintain a better relationship among the sportsmen in the senior high school and to introduce the importance of conservation and the restocking of game. Through the school year its programs have followed a definite procedure. A committee is appointed every meeting. Interesting articles on practical sporting knowledge are read and general discussions are held.

Athletics

Soccer

First row, left to right: Eugene Batastini, Harold Rohrbach, Paul Houck, Warren Martin, Captain Arlington Fabian, Austin Brown, Clement Boland, William Shellenberger, Joe Miller.

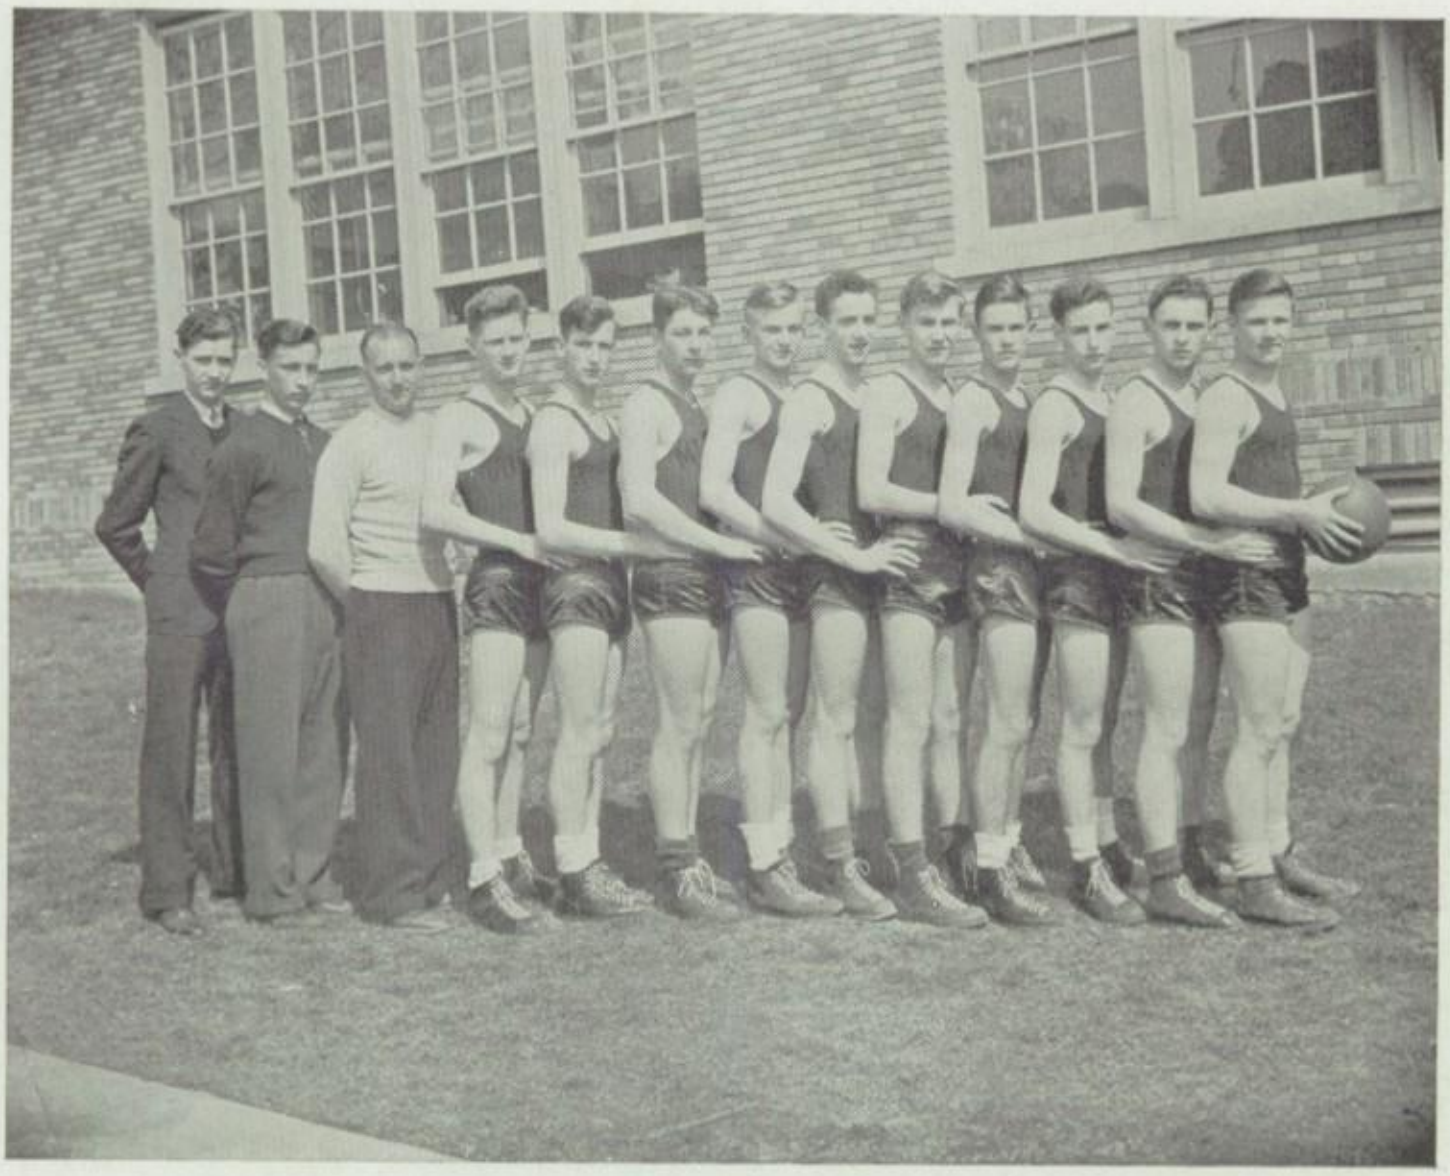
Second row: Coach Hasley, Edgar Huggins, Ernest Weller, Melvin Scarlett, Richard Sailer, Harold Wanamaker, William Shiffer, Thomas McDonough, Donald Calm, manager.

The soccer team enjoyed the best season ever witnessed by loyal team rooters. The members won the championship of the Western Division and received a beautiful trophy for this great accomplishment. It was the first championship soccer team since this sport was introduced in our school.

Looking at the record of the "Mountaineers," we find that the team won 7, tied 2, and lost 1. The only setback was at the hands of Mohnton.

Coach Hasley and his boys really showed their prowess on the field and are to be congratulated for their cooperation and ability through the entire season.

Outstanding for the "Mountaineers" were Captain Arlington Fabian, Richard Sailer, Warren Martin, Austin Brown, Harold Rohrbach, and Bill Shellenberger.



Basketball

The "Mountaineers" fought their way cleanly and excitingly through a season of thrilling and hard-fought basketball. It was a season which may be truthfully called the most successful campaign which Mt. Penn warriors have waged in the past ten years.

One of the outstanding games was the fray in which the "Mounts" defeated Mohnton after the latter had won eight straight victories. Mount Penn is unfortunate this year in losing a large number of basketeers. Those graduating are Melvin Scarlett, Warren Martin, Austin Brown, Clement Boland, William Kase, and Captain Joe Miller.

Girls' Basketball

First row: Lucky, mascot; Viola Boydjieff, Evelyn Horning, Vivian Yergey, Gretchen Bieber, Janet Leinbach, Marian Griesemer, coach.

Second row: Marian Sands, captain; Grace Hill, Mildred Kline, Erma Leinbach, Betty Brown, Sarah Bressler, Virginia Boydjieff, Elizabeth Sands, Mary Foley, manager; Jane Moyer, assistant manager.

Even though the girls' team won only four of the twelve games played, they gave their opponents hard battles.

Seniors, whom the team loses by graduation, are Captain Marian Sands, Evelyn Horning, Grace Hill and Mildred Kline.

The scores were:

Our Dad Sure Thinks a Lot of Us

"Our yard is full of swings and slides and bikes—and when Dad comes home from work, he's always ready to romp and play. He tells us, too, that he has fixed things with our Community Bank, the MT. PENN TRUST COMPANY, so that we'll still have fun and be protected if anything happens to him.

"We heard him tell mother last night that she'd never have to worry—that his Trust would take care of all of us. We don't understand what a Trust is, but it must be something fine because Dad says it is."

We will be glad to discuss with you the way in which a Trust will help to give your family the things that you want them to have.

You Can

Believe that you can—and you will not fail, though great be the task begun. Believe that you can—though hard the trail, and rugged the road you run. Have faith in yourself. Just know you can and you're simply bound to do; and never a barrier, bar or ban can keep you from carrying through.

Believe in yourself and then go in and work with your heart and soul. Believe in yourself and you'll surely win, no matter how far your goal. There's a marvelous force in the faith that springs from this great and noble thought; by the magic spell of the strength it brings, the greatest of deeds are wrought!

Believe in your soul that you will succeed. For as sure as you hold this thought, you will back your faith with the power of deed, till the last hard fight is fought! Aye, hold to that thought and you'll do your part in the way that it should be done. Just start with a winner's confident heart, and your battle is really won!

So go to it, boy, and hit your stride, at the crack of the starting gun, and never falter or turn aside 'til the whole long course is run. You may not be brilliant, or clever, or smart; you may not be fast of pace, but if you have grit and a confident heart you'll be there at the end of the race.

—The Optimist.
